

Summer Cleaning Drive of Environmental Science Department

Students of the Environmental Science and Sustainability course conducted a cleaning program in front of the campus parking area. A total 200 students took part in the cleaning drive in the summer semester 2026. The objective of the course to develop awareness on environment and sustainability and keep up with environmentally conscious citizen.

